Department: Kannada HISTORICAL TRIP 2016-2017

REPORT

As a part of the historical visit the language department of St. Anne's FGC for women organized a one day trip to Tabbulingeshwara Temple, Gangvara & Nallur Kote, Devanahalli Taluk, and Bangalore on 8th October 2016. This was an initiative by the language club to bring students close to the field experience as the knowledge was only theoretical. The main focus of the trip was to enhance the geographical knowledge & know the importance of the place with its enriching cultural values & mythical stories related to the place. This gives the student a new life experience away from class room teaching & have live experience of different life style.

As planned scheduled the students willing to join the trip assembled in the college campus. With two of language faculty we started our journey. One of our faculty members joined us on the way as he was resident of nearby area. This was of great help as we could get more information about the place in depth. The students had a great time in gaining practical knowledge of the place as well interacted with the localities to get some awareness of the place importance. Based on that we could sketch the geographical & history of that place.

Tabulingeshwara temple has its historical importance. Its situated in between gangvara & choudappanahalli villages. This temple is linked with the borders of Hoskote & Devanahalli. Its stands on the river bank of Dakshina Pinakini. Its situated 31kms from Bengaluru city. The temple is bounded with its mythological & epic importance. The localities believe that the temple was established by Kolara Ganga's. Approximately it's told that is 1200 years old temple. It's believed that the city of gagavadi had a history wealthy ruling. But years later Pallavas & Cholas attacked the city & ruined it. The proof that the city existence has the buried left over which is still in the study of archaeology. Now the village gangavar is the evolution city of gangavadi. Tabbu means hug Lingeshwara means lord Shiva's idle, so the temple is symbolic with the meaning.

Nallur kote is situated on the bank of dakshina pinakini. This place comes under devanahalli taluk which is 39kms from Bangalore city. The localities believe that the fort was under the ruling of Kolara gangas, pallavas, cholas, hoysala, vijayanagara. The fort was full of tamrind trees which have the history of 1000 passed years' stands as the story relating the life history of that period. But for now the ruins of the fort are scattered in the areas which was destroyed in a period of time. Now only through history & ruins present are the proofs of the existence of fort. For present the place is renovated with new temple named as gangadevi temple. The localities even now term the place as tamarind groove area. Total number of participation:

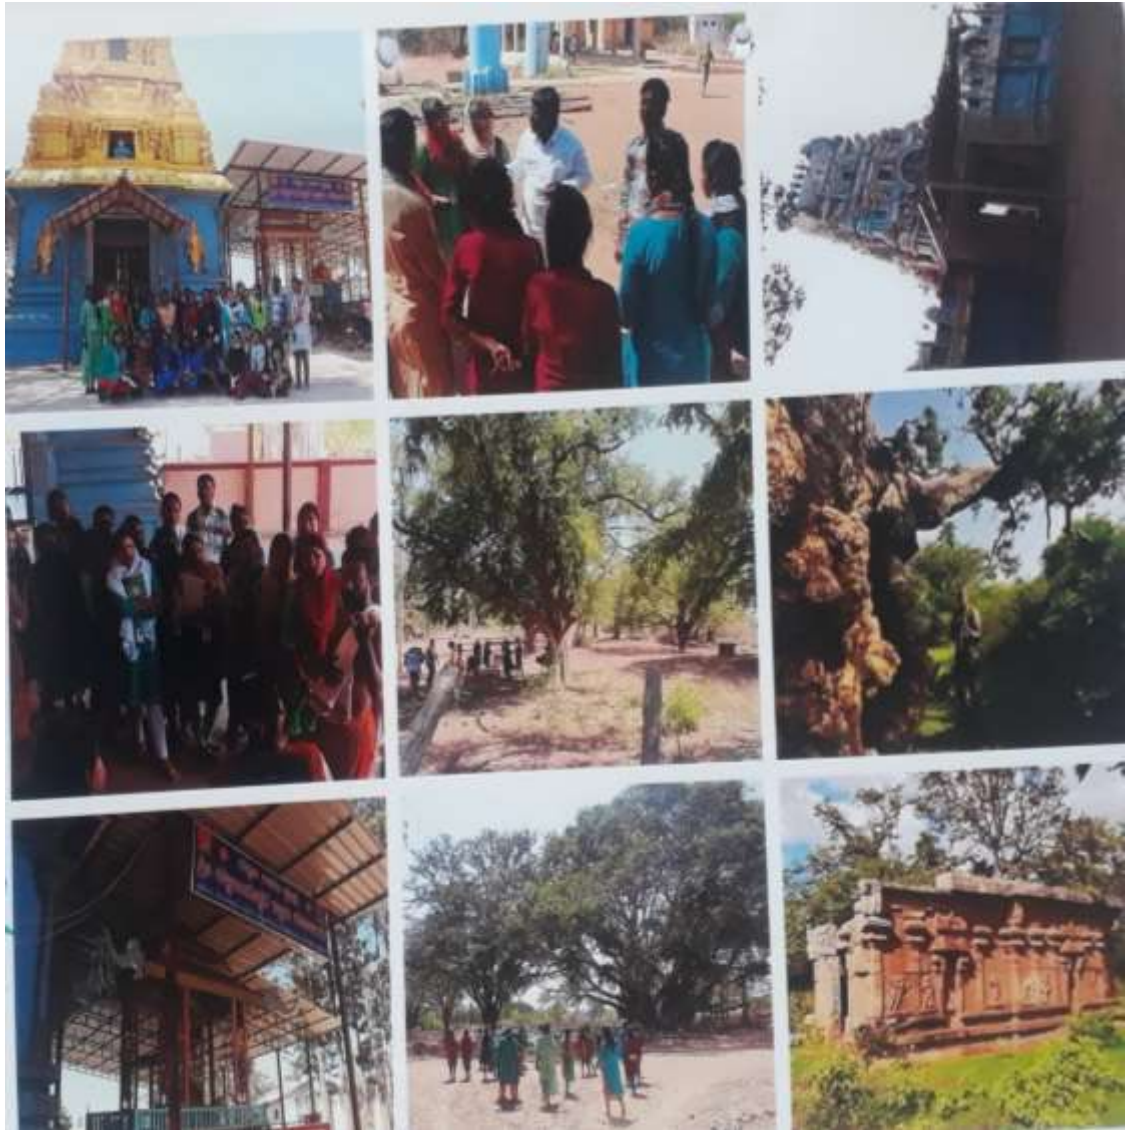

1. 3 faculty members
2. 48 students from all the streams.

Organizing committee: Language department.
